HEAVY METALS

Exposure to toxic heavy metals like lead, mercury and arsenic have been shown to cause organ and nervous system damage, cancer and stunted development.

CHLORINE & CHEMICALS

Chlorine and its by-products have been indisputably linked to various types of cancer, kidney and liver damage, immune system dysfunction and birth defects.

PESTICIDES

Agricultural pesticides found in the water have been associated with many types of cancer, neurological disorders and fertility issues.

DIRT & SEDIMENT

Sediment, silt, industrial waste, rust flakes and bio-debris in the form of sewage and decaying plant and animal matter are all found in tap water.

PHARMACEUTICAL WASTE

A billion litres of raw and partially treated sewage flows into South Africa's water sources every day, polluting our water with drugs and medical waste.

BIOLOGICAL ACTIVITY

Bacteria, viruses, coliforms, parasites and cysts can pose a very serious health risk, and certain types of pathogens such as Cryptosporidium and Giardia are immune to Chlorine.
